Our lives are already at stake. There is a hand-to-hand and fang-to-fang war going on around us in the darkness of the night. With each victory another full measure of power passes into that winner's menacing hand.

Have You Ever Wondered What Would Happen To Us If All The POWERS Of Darkness Was Held In One Wicked Vampire's Hand? The time has come that you must. The shadows are shifting in the darkness. Only The Fittest Will Survive, we know that. But, with all the smudges of deception we have gone through can we still trust the way we trace out that vague line that judges between Good And Evil and decide Who Gets The Power?

The Power sheds a new light on the word, vampire, and it gives a different perspective on what they are, and what they stand for. It is not us mere mortals that the immortals fear. In the darkest dark of the night a war is going on that humans know nothing about. It is a fight to the finish, waged in a battle to determine the fittest, the strongest, and the swiftest, as vampire hunts vampire in search of the ultimate power.

The POWER shows a different way to look at the vague line drawn between what is good and what is evil. Weaved through the story we learn of the power struggles dancing in the heart of one tormented soul, a creature of the night that is still haunted by she left behind in the light of day.

This is my first novel and it has not been seen by anyone at this time. It is a (59,000 word) novel broken down into 19 chapters for easier reading. May I send the first three chapters of my novel to you for approval? A stamped and self-addressed envelope is enclosed for your reply.

Thank you in advance
